And what about accessible footnotes?

Footnotes¹ and endnotes are a relevant part of the content of a document. Therefore, it is important that they are accessible and usable for screen reader users in a similar quick and easy way as for sighted users.
